

Development & Infrastructure Committee.

Participation is only by invitation, based on EOI send outs from Chairperson or nomination by Chairperson.

Development & Infrastructure Committee (D&I Committee) members need to be:

- Representative of or attuned to the needs of significant parts of Fremantle's D&I economy. e.g. leading an industry or community network.
- Operationally involved day-to-day in Fremantle's D&I sector. e.g. have 'skin in the game' e.g. CEO's more than Chair.
- Collaborative as demonstrated by past behaviour e.g. participation in forums, partnerships.
- Adding diversity to the perspectives already represented e.g. geographical, sectoral, gender, demographic, expertise.
- Capable of attending regular bi-monthly meetings, and of turning insights into action e.g. sufficient resources, influence, ability to help achieve the objectives.
- Must make their best available attempts to attend all meetings.
- Able to attend in person (not via Zoom).
- Ready to provide opportunities and feedback to the FCC CEO on major projects/decisions which will impact on member businesses/sectors.
- Agreeing to abide by the FCC member code of conduct.

Purpose

Development & Infrastructure Committee.

Objectives (Continued)

- Enable diverse stakeholders to develop a shared understanding of the status, trends and economic climate.
- Facilitate alignment and collaboration on priority actions towards a shared vision.
- Provide opportunity for members to connect and share information about upcoming projects, business developments/opportunities.

Ethos.

- Non-binding, confidential (Chatham House Rule) conversations
- Agenda driven by Chairperson (FCC CEO) and participants – some predetermined, some emergent
- Create space for creativity and connection, being casual and authentic.

Benefits of being a Committee Member.

- Help shape the future of Fremantle. Shape the agenda, be the first to be consulted, and collaborate on actions with other leaders.
- An invitation to attend the regular meetings, sharing trends, insights, and collaboration opportunities.
- Leadership – demonstrating leadership towards the shared vision for Fremantle's economy and our position nationally.

Please note all committee members must hold a valid Business Enterprise Membership level or above with the Fremantle Chamber of Commerce.
